Description

As a user, I want to be able to set alerts for the searches that I perform on the Kayak website.
The alert can be set by ticking the button to ON, and a pop-up window is displayed where an e-mail address is required.
After completing a valid e-mail address a "Track prices" is displayed and a success message is displayed.
Upon price changes, the user is informed by email about the new prices found.

Design:

- See the attached mockup

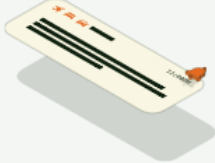

Acceptance criteria:

- The price alert flow is functional.
- The form validation is performed.
- There are no errors present in the console.
- The email is sent to the user
